ALL RIGHT IN NEW YORK, CONDEMNED HERE

Subcutaneous Cattle Found Among Thoroughbred Guernseys Brought from New York.

Editor Times: In the early part of the summer I. W. Bates, one of Barre's enterprising and prosperous farmers and a thorough believer in the principle that the best is the cheapest in the long run, purchased six cows and a bull, all thoroughbred Guernseys. He had them tested by Dr. A. B. Becker of Albany, N. Y., who pronounced them free from tuberculosis. These cows were bought of F. B. Beckley of Schaghticoke, N. Y., and were taken to Vermont on a permit from the cattle commissioners. As soon as they arrived, Mr. Bates notified the secretary of the board, Mr. Terrill, and Dr. Rich and Mr. Terrill came to Barre and tested the cattle and condemned three head, which were isolated from all other cattle and in due time were retested with the same results. Dr. C. N. Barber was called a few days ago and killed one of the cows, which proved to have seven large tubercles in the lungs, besides myriads of smaller ones throughout the entire animal. Mr. Bates paid good money for what he supposed was first class stock, and had every reason to believe he was getting what he bought, supposing a hired veterinary would give him an honest test, but instead was not only beaten in his purchase, but by the man he hired, in whom he naturally should have perfect confidence. Mr. Bates' intentions were not only for benefiting the entire community, as the importation of thoroughbred stock is a benefit to any community; the legislature now in session ought to look to it and see that some law is passed to punish persons for certifying that animals are healthy when they are known to be diseased, as both the man who sold the cattle and especially the veterinary who tested them must have known in this case.

"NATION MUST CONTROL"

Root Replies to Speech of Harriman

LATTER SAID RAILROADS

Should Be Unhindered—Secretary at Once Took Up the Point—Spoke Also on Our Diplomacy at Kansas City Banquet.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 21.—The most interesting feature of the Commercial club banquet Monday night, not announced beforehand, was Edward H. Harriman's criticism of government regulation of railroads and Secretary of State Root's vigorous reply. Mr. Harriman in his address said:

"I saw in the papers that President Hill of the Great Northern, in an address before the commercial bodies of Chicago, said that the country needs 100,000 miles more of railway. I feel sure Mr. Hill was misquoted. Two men now here who heard his speech confirm me in that belief. As they understood it, and as he probably said, the railroads need sidings, terminals and double tracks equal to 100,000 miles of new railways. In his speech in Harrisburg recently, President Roosevelt said that the executive and legislative departments of the government should be given additional power to deal with public organizations. If we are going to continue to prosper, the power which President Roosevelt desires added to the government, I hope, will be added to the other organizations. I hope that some of it will come our way. It is impossible for a railway or large organization to carry on its business properly if the people are constantly criticizing and suspecting. In the Union Pacific company no one man says what the company will or will not do. I am unwilling only because I must be on hand to hear conferences and try to bring a body of men to one conclusion. It is not easy if you always have to turn to the legal department and find out whether you may or may not."

Here Mr. Harriman paused and turned to Secretary Root, who sat two seats rearward. "It is often important to a city or country whether we do certain things, whether we develop a territory," Mr. Harriman continued, "or leave it dormant. Often we cannot give development a start because of the action of certain people for political prestige. I believe there is to be a change of attitude which soon is to be felt. The people are coming to believe in Americanism—and that means fair play."

Secretary Root accepted Mr. Harriman's challenge promptly and prefaced his prepared speech by saying: "Before I begin my talk on the subject which has been assigned to me, I desire to make a few remarks in answer to Mr. Harriman. Mr. Harriman, I believe, in his speech tonight, would have us give more power to the railroads. The experience I gained from a knowledge of railroad business in the state of Missouri at a time when the railroads were competing for business led me to believe that the just means of regulating traffic and railway affairs is through the railways themselves. I believe that it is just to say that a wise law would be one that would force the railroads to combine in keeping the law—a law that would prevent the railroads from breaking the law."

"I repeat that the best regulation can be brought about by the railroads themselves if they will only do it. Their power, Mr. Harriman, should be supplemented by governmental control, such that would prevent them from doing wrong. It is doubtless the case that a railway by special compensation or special rates can hope to build up a bigger and better business. Nevertheless, science of governmental ways gives a chance. The privilege of the railroads in discriminating in the matter of special rates and compensations is too often abused, as we have seen. It is the common tendency of railroads to give advantage to the wealthy shipper against the weaker or smaller one. It is that tendency so often displayed—a tendency to crush the weak. For this reason, I say that it is necessary, it is essential, to freedom and independence, that the railroads should be held under control to prevent discrimination. The slight advantage that the railroads would gain by more power—the power that Mr. Harriman asks for—would be so greatly offset by the evil that such a proposition would not be considered a moment."

About $17,000 was paid to V. A. Wilbur of Grafton for the property, which is covered with a good growth of spruce.

WITTE ROUNDLY ABUSED

Torrent of Denunciation in St. Petersburg

ATTEMPT TO BLOCK

His Political Advancement—Press Articles Are Particularly Violent—Another Batch of the Rogov Thieves Is Under Arrest.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—Since his return to Russia, Count Witte has been showered with abuse from all sides. A campaign to discredit him and prevent his ever returning to power is openly in progress. The Socialist press has given him the lie direct on the subject of his declaration that he had no communication with the Workingmen's Council during his premiership, and high officials of the government are furnishing material for attacks upon him. The reactionary papers are filled with articles abusing the count, among the mildest terms employed being "stupidous liar," "traitor to the fatherland," and "political and financial card sharper." The voice of M. Kovalevsky, in the Sibirsk, is the only one raised in the former premier's support. He says Witte is undoubtedly the cleverest man in the government camp, and that the abuse is dictated by fear that his star may again be in the ascendant.

Through bribing a member of the gang, the Warsaw police have arrested another batch of participants in the train robbery at Rogov, Nov. 8, by which the Revolutionists are said to have secured about $650,000, making altogether thirty-four persons arrested in this connection. They will all be immediately tried by drumhead court-martial.

In an interview M. Kokortzeff, Russian minister of finance, said: "I have the certitude that unless something unexpected happens, such as a fresh series of strikes or a renewed outbreak of disorders, and in spite of the famine in certain districts, there will be no deficit in the budget of the current year. Revenues in every branch of the administration have exceeded my most optimistic forecasts. Our exports have greatly increased, and, as you have already telegraphed to the Herald, we have no necessity of contracting a fresh loan to carry out our financial engagements. I have never entered into any negotiations with any financial group with this object. I have never discussed it with M. Clemenceau, whom I did not even have the honor of seeing during my so-

Journal in Paris. All reports of such a loan are pure inventions. Even the Socialists in foreign countries admit the gradual appeasement of the well being of the population. They have, therefore, ceased their attacks on our credit. Some Russian journals, however, continue the unpatriotic campaign of trying to discredit their own country. I attribute the recent rise in Russian funds to the fact that Europe knows our real situation, based on facts and figures. I further notes that order is augmenting daily. The present ministry is devoting itself to the strict execution of the liberal reforms laid down in the imperial manifesto of October 17. These are expressions of the emperor's will and can alone give happiness to the country."

OBTAIN A TEN-HOUR DAY.

Gain an Increase of Four Instead of Ten Cents an Hour.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad and its switchmen arrived at a satisfactory adjustment of the demands of the latter yesterday and entered into an agreement, which will continue for one year from January 1, when the present agreement expires.

The men wanted an increase of 10 cents per hour and a ten-hour day on all divisions of the road. The settlement now made calls for an increase of four cents an hour in the Scranton and Buffalo yards, the smaller ones to have a proportionate increase. The ten-hour day is granted on all parts of the system, the wages which were paid for a twelve-hour day being made the ten-hour basis on which the increase is to be made.
